It's was a great honor to be selected as one of the 15 women who can change your health and happiness by the Women's Health Magazine in Australia - March 2013 issue!

I also asked the journalist who dubbed me 'Lady Gaga' of Natural Fertility to explain why, here's what she said: "Lady Gaga was a play on words – gaga being the sound babies make and Lady Gaga being an iconic figure. We actually called you 'Our Lady Gaga' - a tongue in cheek way to describe your expertise and success and how proud we are of your work"- Thanks Yoke Communications! :) And it was so nice to be mentioned by my College of Natural Medicine where it all began a long time ago! Here's what they said on Facebook: "We were so excited to see Endeavour alumni and natural fertility expert Iva Keene from Natural Fertility Prescription featured in Women's Health Magazine Australia's cover story on 15 Women Who Will Change Your Health and Happiness this month. Congratulations Iva on being selected along with the likes of Sarah Murdoch, Sarah Wilson, Libby Trickett and Lorna Jane Clarkson!" Thank you so much Endeavour College of Natural Medicine! My passion is to solve problems by researching, identifying and solving the cause. It may sound simple but there is an art and science to it and that's what naturopathy is, a truly beautiful healing craft. Our bodies have an amazing power to heal and respond so well to natural medicine. I've been blessed to be able to help thousands of women and I'm truly grateful for this opportunity and for being able to do what I'm passionate about. I'm here for you and will devote myself to each and every case with the same passion and rigor. After all, the babies, the new generation born out of this work are worth it a million times over! Thank you for your recognition of my work, it's very special to receive this acknowledgement. I look forward to helping you on your fertility journey! References: Women's Health Magazine Endeavour College of Natural Health
